Regulations on Curbung the Menace of Ragging in higher Educational Institutions, 2009

Saurashtra University, in exercise of powers vested in it under the UGC Act, 1966, notiﬁed the Regulations on Curbung the Menace of Ragging in higher Educational Institutions, 2009, to curb the menace of ragging. These regulations were framed to protect the students from ragging and to ensure a safe and healthy academic environment. Any student found guilty of ragging will be subjected to severe disciplinary action as per the prescribed rules.

The University has also taken steps to make the students aware of the consequences of ragging and to encourage them to report any such incidents. The University has established a Ragging Committee to receive complaints and take appropriate action.
